

I am truly honored to be part of the Team which has been entrusted with the task of training the Road engineering Fraternity. For our growth as Highway Professionals – training forms an integral part – there is no end to what we can learn.

Fostering the spirit of professionalism and inculcating the right values of promoting co-operation and foster exchange of knowledge, ideas and experience in all the sphere of highway engineering among engineers in India and Abroad should be the hall mark of all the stakeholders.

I hope there will be greater participation and cooperation from all. The entire faculty and staff of IAHE will constantly strive to maintain the high standards it's renowned for.

I hope and pray that all of you will join us to reach greater heights.
